SILVER OAKS,
33, RESIDENCY ROAD,

Bangalore, March 21st, 1922.

Dear Mr. Mirza,

Very many thanks for yours of March 20th. Although I never met him personally, I am a distant admirer of Sir Kantaraja Urs, and I am sorry to hear that he may not be strong enough to return to duty. He was always described to me as "safe" and as a natural gentleman.

I have used the information discreetly.

My car accident might have been worse, both for myself and Forbes' children; but, as it was, the damage to my uninsured car amounted to Rs. 3-8 and to his insured Buick Rs.300 !. The police are charging Forbes' driver with failing to sound his horn on popping out of a gate and for not having his licence with him.

We hope to get away to Ooty via Mysore on the 30th, taking it for granted that the route is quite safe now from Moplahs!

Yours sincerely,

W. G. Johnson.
